

Report on Orientation Cum Induction Program at Cambridge Institute of Technology

An Orientation Program for newly admitted students of 2K24 batch, marking the beginning of their academic journey was organised on 25th sept. 2024 in the seminar hall of the institution. The event was held in the college auditorium and aimed to familiarize the students with the college's values, infrastructure, faculty, and support systems. It also provided an opportunity for the students to meet their peers, mentors, and faculty members.

The program commenced with the registration of new students in the morning, followed by the formation of Mentor-Mentee groups. This initiative is designed to foster a supportive learning environment and provide students with personalized guidance throughout their academic career. The mentors were formally introduced within their groups, setting the tone for a collaborative and encouraging academic journey.

The ceremony was graced by the online presence of the Chief Guest, Prof. (Dr.) D. K. Singh, Vice-Chancellor of Jharkhand University of Technology, Ranchi. Parents, faculty members, dignitaries, and other stakeholders were warmly welcomed. The event began with a welcome speech by Prof. Rasika Navneet Singh, Vice-Principal of Cambridge Institute of Technology. She extended a warm welcome to the parents, guests, alumni, Heads of Departments, teaching faculty, and non-teaching staff. She also elaborated on the institute's rich history, values, and recent achievements, instilling a sense of pride and confidence in the new students.

A traditional lamp lighting ceremony followed, accompanied by the recitation of Saraswati Vandana, symbolizing the institution's dedication to knowledge and enlightenment.

The students of the institute presented a captivating classical dance performance to welcome the newcomers and dignitaries. The performance added a cultural essence to the event, reflecting the institute's commitment to holistic development beyond academics.

The Principal of Cambridge Institute of Technology then delivered an inspiring welcome speech, introducing the students and their parents to the various facilities offered by the college, such as the well-equipped library, modern hostel facilities, and the oxygenated campus environment. He also motivated the students to make the most of the opportunities available and wished them great success in their academic and professional careers.

On this occasion, the Guest of Honour, Dr. S.P. Singh, former Vice Chancellor of Veer Kunwar Singh University, congratulated all the new entrants for securing a place in a reputed institution. He wished them an exciting and fulfilling academic journey ahead, encouraging them to shine as engineers and human beings, and to contribute to the greater good of society.

Following this, the Guest of Honour, Dr. S.K. Singh, former Director of BIT Sindri, provided a blend of motivation, practical advice, and a call to ethics and responsibility, making it an ideal address for first-year students.

A special session was organized where alumni shared their personal experiences, offering valuable insights into how the institute had shaped their professional paths. The alumni also assured the students of their support and guidance whenever needed, creating a strong sense of community among past and current students.

After the introductory and welcoming sessions, the Orientation Program reached an important moment — the prize distribution ceremony for the winners of the Engineers' Day competitions. The event recognized winners across various categories, including the technical quiz, project presentations, and creative competitions like model-making.

Motivational video clips are also shown to the newly students of 2k24 batch during orientation Programme.

Following the prize distribution, mementos were presented to the dignitaries and key participants of the event as tokens of appreciation for their valuable presence and contributions. Prof. (Dr.) D. K. Singh, the Chief Guest, received a special memento in recognition of his inspiring words and continuous support to the institution. Other dignitaries, including alumni and faculty members, were also honored for their dedication and involvement in ensuring the success of the event.

The program concluded with a formal Vote of Thanks delivered by Dr. Shalini Singh, HOD, MBA of Cambridge Institute of Technology. In her address, she expressed heartfelt gratitude to all the dignitaries, guests, parents, and students for their participation and presence. She extended sincere appreciation to Prof. (Dr.) D. K. Singh for gracing the event with his insightful and inspiring speech. Dr. Shalini also thanked the organizing committee, faculty members, and student volunteers for their tireless efforts in making the Orientation Program a grand success.

In her closing remarks, she conveyed her best wishes to the first-year students, encouraging them to take full advantage of the opportunities available at the institute. Her words of gratitude and encouragement resonated with everyone present, bringing the event to a memorable and positive close.

The event ended on a patriotic note with the National Anthem, leaving everyone with a sense of pride and unity.
